

SELECTION & HIRING PROCESS

The selection process at Rhodes is a highly rigorous one in order to ensure we have the highest-performing team of staff possible. We are looking for talented individuals to join our purpose who are looking for a long-term career and are aligned with our core values and commitment to excellence.

Throughout our typical 4-6 week selection process candidates will move through various robust steps while having the opportunity to meet with members of the Rhodes Team to share their background and experience.
